Biography

My name is Evan, and I was born in Les Lilas, located in the Seine-Saint-Denis department in France on September 14th 2003. At 16 years old, I moved to Montpellier.

In 2021, I obtained my baccalaureate with the specialties "Mathematics" and "Computer Science". This choice of specialties reflected my interest in those domains, two fields that have always left me fascinated. After obtaining my baccalaureate, I decided to pursue my studies in computer science.

I joined a Bachelor's degree program in computer science specializing in the deployment of communicative and secured applications. This specialization matched my interests in cybersecurity and networks. I wanted to acquire skills in cybersecurity because I believe it is one of the most interesting subjects in computer science.

During my studies, I had the opportunity to work on various projects in a team, which allowed me to develop my project management and communication skills. I also had the opportunity to participate in competitions and hackathons, where I could put my knowledge into practice.

My professional goal is to become a cybersecurity or devops engineer. To achieve this goal, I plan to continue my studies by joining an engineering school specializing in one of those fields.
